THE PRESENTATION OF THE BABY HUMBERT, PRINCE OF PIEMONTE, TO QUEEN MARGHERITA.

GROCERS' NOTICE.

In accordance with our desire to give our customers the best possible service at the lowest prices, we have decided to discontinue the practice of allowing a discount of 5 per cent on retail monthly bills, and therefore give notice that on and after the 1st of November, 1904, no discount whatsoever will be allowed on any groceries sold in our stores. All groceries will be sold at net prices, on a basis of spot cash or thirty days' settlement, and there will be no exception made to this rule. Purchases made in our retail departments up to the 1st of November will, of course, be subject to the 5 per cent discount as heretofore.

The discount question has frequently been the cause of disputes and dissatisfaction and we believe this arrangement will improve our relations with our patrons, while it will at the same time enable us to more adequately meet the keen competition prevailing in our line of business, and to give our customers the benefit of the closest prices.

HAWAII.

O full and soft upon the mango trees
Flamed forth bright beams of glory from the west;
And through the boughs there sighed a gentle breeze,
Bearing a thousand perfumes on its breast.

For it had kissed the jasmine's scented spray,
Had stolen sweetness from the lily's bell,
And I had seen the ylang-ylang softly sway
Before its breath as it swept up the dell.

The feathery bamboos waving in the air,
Hibiscus branches garbed in red and green,
The bright rose-apple with its foliage fair
All smiled in beauty on the world serene.

And from the groves flowed forth in thrilling strains
The birds' sweet songs of rapture and delight—
The love lore of the forests and the plains
Those wild birds sang, as fell the dark'ning night.

? ? ROMANCE OF A CROWN ? ?

Some assert that this is not the real crown worn by Kalakaua, but that another, now in a private museum, is the genuine article. Nevertheless, it is known that the King wore it at times, and as there was never any more money in the treasury than he knew what to do with, it is supposed that he was contented with one crown, even if it did happen to be a plated one. The silver service to be sold was used in the palace during the time of Kalakaua, having been presented by France to patch up a peace after some slight had been offered to Hawaii. The Queen made no demand for the silver when she was given the privilege of taking from the palace any property she claimed as her own, but later two of the native princes, one of them Prince David, now Hawaii's delegate to Congress, tried to gain possession of it.

The sale of the crown and the silver is meeting with strenuous objection from the natives, as was expected, but Governor Carter says the auction will go on, for there must be money to pay interest on the Government debt next month and this is the only way he knows of to get it. From this statement, it is evident that a big price is expected for the relics. It is believed that some of the descendants of the royal family will try to bid them in.—Pennsylvania Grit.

*Underwood typewriter received
grand prize St. Louis Exposition*

That visible typewriting machines are growing in popular favor is an undoubted fact. It is rarely one can find a person who is not willing to admit that visible writers are time and labor savers and they appeal particularly to the large number of typewriter users who are not professionals or experts and who as a consequence can work to much greater advantage by being able to see what they are doing.

Pearson & Potter Co., agents here for the Underwood received recently a shipment of 13 machines all of which were disposed of within three days after arrival.

The fact that the Underwood received the Grand Prize at St. Louis shows that it is considered the leading typewriter of the world by the best experts and explains why it is that its popularity is so great that the factory have been unable to keep up with their orders.

THE FRUITS OF YOUR LABOR

A man who toils away the best years of his life ought to have something to show for it when he reaches middle age. He can easily manage if he will plan properly in the beginning.

Do not pay rent. Go into a co-operative building and loan association and get a home of your own with the money you would otherwise pay a landlord.

Our plan is simple and perfectly safe. Let us explain it fully. Call or write.
